

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY.

Promising Move Made Toward the Organization of a Society.

In response to an anonymous call there was a gathering of people last night that filled the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., with the object of forming a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

W. N. Armstrong, editor of the Advertiser, was called to the chair. He stated the object of the meeting and gave an account of the workings of similar societies in the United States. If such a society were formed here, he suggested to the meeting, its plans should be well matured and it should act with care and discretion.

Police Captain Andrews said that there was more need for such a society on the other islands than in Honolulu, but if action were taken here the outer districts would cordially correspond.

W. O. Smith, Attorney General, said the authorities depended on public information in enforcing the law. Something had been done within the last year by Deputy Marshal Brown and Captain Andrews. They had checked abuses in the matter of overloading animals. Some of the merchants of Honolulu would be surprised to be charged with cruelty to animals, yet they were guilty of allowing their horses to be overloaded. A society such as that proposed could be very effective, but its executive officer should not be too severe.

W. C. Weedon thought the society should undertake the protection of women and children. He related an instance of cruelty to a horse driven in a brake, which he had noticed last Sunday, and hoped that this society would develop into something tangible and permanent.

Mr. Armstrong thought the protection of women and children something entirely distinct.

Mr. Weedon cited the case of Cleveland, O., where one officer attended to both classes of cases. The officer there needed no assistance.

Mr. Armstrong read a letter received by a lady who was present, referring to a case of cruel treatment of a horse on one of the inter-island steamers. This showed to some extent the interest taken in this matter.

Samuel Emerson had seen horses driven very hard to Waiuku, and he had felt much sympathy for the poor animals. He spoke about the hard swearing done over horses, and quoted the scriptural exclamation, "Doth not God care for oxen?" He thought plant life should also be protected, speaking of orange trees withering for want of water.

Geo. H. Paris presented a resolution based on a scheme of action in the State of Indiana.

D. W. Corbett, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., thought the intention was to form a society for the protection of animals and not of children. He did not think the one object had anything to do with the other.

D. Logan insisted on impartiality in the dealings of the proposed society. Steamship corporations and the beef trust should be held to account for the treatment of animals in their charge as well as poor Chinamen.

J. J. McDonald did not think that the owner of a horse had a right to abuse it. There should be an honorable man appointed as executive officer of the proposed society, who would use sensible discretion in enforcing the law. He would have women brought up if they abused horses.

Geo. H. Paris presented a resolution, which slightly amended passed as follows:

That a society be formed whose object shall be the prevention, in any lawful mode or manner under existing or future laws, of cruelty in any form; and that a committee of three be appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the organization of the society, and submit their plans to a meeting of the persons present at a future meeting.

Mr. Armstrong proposed that a committee should be organized to form a society. He thought they should not take up more than one subject, that of cruelty to animals.

Mr. Templeton suggested as a name, "The Humane Society," so as to embrace cruelty of all kinds.

Dr. Rowat moved that a committee on organization be appointed.

Mr. Paris insisted that his resolution was practical, and it passed as already stated.

Several nominations were made and the following committee was the choice of the meeting: Dr. A. H. Rowat, veterinary surgeon, W. N. Armstrong and Miss Helen Wilder.

J. L. Carter advocated a scheme of soliciting contributions from the public in general. He gave some information about the workings of similar societies in the United States.

Mr. Paris thought they should find out what was the sense of the community.

Mr. Armstrong thought the matter of funds and other details should be left to the committee.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the committee.

THE MAN IS GOOD.

He Loves Country Better Than Office and His Reward Is Tasty.

The following epistle explains itself. It was handed to Kamiki, a messenger in the employ of the government, after he had refused to take the oath of allegiance:

"FOREIGN OFFICE."

LADIES' COLUMN.

We are not at all surprised at our increased trade—it's the goods and prices that have brought it all about. We have adopted the policy of quick sales and small profits—it's a first rate policy for both the buyer and seller. It means TRUE ECONOMY—good things need not be high priced.

There is a certain hard wall of facts and figures, however, that stands between possibility and prodigal promises. There are certain prices below which no good, honest article can be bought. Those prices are ours—if you pay less you will certainly get less. This is a plain statement worth remembering.

We don't know what got into the factory for they have sent us enough LADIES' SHIRT WAISTS to supply every lady on these Islands. We must get rid of them. Come in and take your pick. They all came on the last steamer and are new designs and patterns.

You are paying more for CURETAINS at the public auctions than we are asking. We have NOTTINGHAMS at $1.50, MADRAS, BELARION, RAW SILK, ORIENTAL, ANTIQUES, ETC., ETC.—we intend that they shall be sold, so now is a good time to buy them. The same advice will stand good through every department of our house.

When you call, take a look at our TOWELS and TOWELING, CHEFFONIES and FURNITURE COVERINGS. Also our COMFORTERS at $1.

Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1894.

The talk about celebrating torch-light processions, etc., over the action of the United States in regard to Hawaiian affairs is sheer nonsense!

What's the use? Better use your kerosene to jubilate over the Tariff Bill becoming a law. It is favorable to the interests of Hawaii and ample reason for jollification, barbecuing and clam baking. Forty percent on sugar and the planter and merchant will join the "process" and scramble for seats in the band wagon. Sugar is not king, it's the money it brings; the higher the price the greater the influence.

Everyone has suffered during the past two years through tariff legislation in the United States, but the people here have borne up under the affliction with commendable pride. A few of the residents have hunted the dollars until the Goddess of Liberty on them has grown thin in the face. We predict a demand on her part for some of Mr. Marsden's rules for dieting if the price of sugar goes up and the Hawaiian crop is continued on the free list. At eighty dollars a ton to-day the price is really better for the planter than at a hundred and twenty ten years ago. The planter has had experience, he knows how to produce the largest quantity at the lowest price; improvements have been made in machinery so that larger percentages of juice may be extracted from the cane to-day than it did then. We anticipate two very prosperous years for the planter and consequently for everyone else. We expect to sell more Hendry Breakers during the next year than we have at any period since we made the planter happy by its introduction. We expect to sell them because there will be a demand for an article of this kind for breaking new land. We expect to sell them because the plantation men recognize it as the only reliable breaking plow on the market. There are other breakers on sale here, but few in use; the "merciful man is merciful to his beast," or words to that effect, and for that reason the manager selects the plow with the lightest draught. The Hendry Breaker is the one.

Every line of business on the Islands will take a step forward, even the barbers will feel it because the man who wears a beard for economy's sake to-day will get a shave every other day and we will sell the tonsorial artist his implements of trade. We have a stock of razors, first quality, and sufficient hair clippers to make the heads of the entire population look like glistening billiard balls. We're in it for business and we have the stock to meet all demands. We doubt very much if there is a store in Honolulu that shows such an assortment of table cutlery and silver plated ware as we do. We've always kept a good supply, but we have had such calls for it that we have increased it. Haviland Ware has been a staple with us ever since we started business; our orders for some of the very latest shapes and decorations are being filled in France. We saw a big demand ahead of us and we took time by the fetlock.
